

If you want to know who JANICE

Born and raised in Berlin, JANICE has lived all over town and in despite of intending to leave it once, never did. Adapting, evolving and being in motion over the past 3 decades in this town created what you now experience as JANICE. It's not a person, it's more a feeling: Its primitive instincts and twilight doctrines.

JANICE combines the urge of fulfillment and propensity for creating, not wanting to define WHO Janice is, rather express WHAT Janice feels. Feelings which JANICE seem to uniquely manufacture into music always knowing:
could be everything, could be nothing.
